Reporting crime

National police hotline – 110

Free

Day

Running both mobile and fixed phone calls

Connect to any replacement part

All conversations are recorded

The hotline is designed for those cases where you need immediate police assistance – if there is a serious threat to public order, a crime or a road accident.

If you are not in Latvia, call +371 67014002.

What and how to say when you call 110

Speak as quickly and clearly as possible - what has happened? Where's the matter?

Who's calling?

Keep calm and answer additional questions from the police officer!

Remember everything as accurately as possible about the persons involved in the accident, the means of transport or the circumstances.

Don't stop the conversation before the police officer!

Also explain to children in which cases you have to call 110 and what needs to say!

Written application to the police

A written application with a request to initiate an investigation may be written

face-to-face at any police station electronically without eParaksta in Latvia's national portal, using the e-service "Written application to the Authority"

electronically by eParaksts—sending to pasts@vp.gov.lv

by post to one of the police departments

The application shall specify:

details of the event;

the manner in which your rights are infringed;

other information likely to be useful for the detection of a crime or offence;

your personal data and address, if possible, contact phone.

The national police thank you in advance for the information you have provided!
